Alexandra S. Tuffuor defends employers in class action, multiplaintiff, and single-plaintiff lawsuits, many of which involve allegations of discrimination and harassment. She also defends clients in cases involving wage and hour law violations, the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). In addition to litigating, Alexandra advises clients on a variety of labor and employment issues, including compliance with state and federal laws and regulations.

Alexandra also counsels clients on employment practices and policies, hiring and termination decisions, and on matters related to the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) and related state laws, including internal employee background check processes and forms.

Prior to joining Morgan Lewis, Alexandra worked in the Office of University Counsel at Pace University as a participant in the firm's Public Interest Fellowship Program.
